7. Why we process your personal data and on what legal basis

As mentioned earlier we are committed to protecting your privacy and handling your data in an open and transparent manner and as such we process your personal data in accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and the local data protection law for one or more of the following reasons:

A. For the performance of a contract:

We process personal data in order to offer financial services based on contracts with you but also to be able to complete our acceptance procedure so as to enter into a business relationship with prospective customers. The purpose of processing personal data depends on whether the customer is a natural or legal entity, depends on the classification/categorisation of the client (i.e. retail, professional) and to the requirements for each service.

B. For Identity Verification purposes:

The Company needs to perform its due diligence measures and apply the principles of KYC (Know-Your-Client) before entering a client relationship in order to prevent actions, such as money laundering or terrorist financing, and also to perform other duties imposed by law. Therefore, we collect from our clients' identity verification information (such as images of your government issued national ID card or International Passport, or driving licence or other governmental proof of identification, as permitted by applicable laws) or other authentication information. We are also requesting our clients to provide us with a recent Utility Bill in order to verify their address. Further to this, the Company can use third parties which carry out identity checks on its behalf.

C. For compliance with a legal obligation:

There are a number of legal obligations emanating from the relevant laws to which we are subject as well as statutory requirements. There are also various supervisory authorities whose laws and regulations we are subject to.

Such obligations and requirements impose on us necessary personal data processing activities for credit checks, identity verification, compliance with court orders, tax law or other reporting obligations and anti-money laundering controls.

These include amongst others transaction reporting requirements, assessment of the clients' knowledge and experience, FATCA and CRS reporting.

D. For the purposes of safeguarding legitimate interests:

We process personal data so as to safeguard the legitimate interests pursued by us or by a third party. A legitimate interest is when we have a business or commercial reason to use your information. But even then, it must not unfairly go against what is right and best for you. Examples of such processing activities include:

- Initiating court proceedings and preparing our defence in litigation procedures,

- Means and processes we undertake to provide for the Company's IT and system security, preventing potential crime, asset security, admittance controls and anti-trespassing measures,
- Measures to manage business and for further developing products and services,
- Sharing your personal data within the JFD Group for the purpose of updating/verifying your personal data in accordance with the relevant anti-money laundering compliance framework,
- The transfer, assignment (whether outright or as security for obligations) and/or sale to one or more persons and/or charge and/or encumbrance over, any or all of the Company's benefits, rights, title or interest under any agreement between the customer and the Company.

E. For Marketing Purposes:

JFD may use client data, such as location or trading history to deliver any news, analysis, research, reports, campaigns and training opportunities that may interest the client, to their registered email address or via telephone. You always have the right to object at any time to the processing of your personal data for marketing purposes or unsubscribe to the provision of marketing related emails by the Company, via the following ways:

8. How we treat your personal data for marketing activities and whether profiling is used for such activities

We may process your personal data to inform you about products, services and offers that may be of interest to you. The personal data that we process for this purpose consists of information you provide to us and data we collect and/or infer when you use our services, such as information on your transactions. We study all such information to form a view on what we think you may need or what may interest you. In some cases, profiling is used, i.e. we process your data automatically with the aim of evaluating certain personal aspects in order to provide you with targeted marketing information on products.

We can only use your personal data to promote our products and services to you if we have your explicit consent to do so – by clicking on the tick box during the sign up procedure – or in certain cases, if we consider that it is in our legitimate interest to do so.

Further, you have the option to choose whether you wish to receive marketing related emails (company news, information about campaigns, the company's newsletter, the company's strategic report, etc.) to your provided email address by clicking the relevant tick box during the sign up procedure.

You have the right to object at any time to the processing of your personal data for marketing purposes or unsubscribe to the provision of marketing related emails by the Company, via the following ways:

- a) Contact any time our customer support department via email: support@jfdbrokers.com ;
- b) Through myJFD portal under “Notification Settings” section ;

9. Period of keeping your personal information

At JFD, we prioritize the security and privacy of your personal information. We want to assure you that we will only retain your data for as long as necessary to maintain a positive and productive relationship with you, whether as an individual or in connection with a legal entity you represent or beneficially own.

Once our business engagement concludes, we are obligated to retain your data for a maximum of seven years to comply with regulatory and legal standards. In certain situations, such as meeting other legal obligations, resolving disputes, preventing fraud, or enforcing our terms and conditions, we may need to keep some of your information for an additional three years beyond the initial period.

Please note that once your personal data is no longer needed, we take the utmost care in securely deleting or destroying it.

10. Your Rights

You have the following rights and protections in terms of processing the personal data we hold about you:

1. Request access to your personal data. This enables you to receive a copy of the personal data we hold about you and to check that we are lawfully processing it (commonly known as a “data subject access request”);
2. Request rectification/correction of the personal data we hold about you. This enables you to have any incomplete or inaccurate data we hold about you corrected. We may request additional information and documentation required to validate the need for the requested change of data.
3. Request erasure of your personal information. You can ask us to erase your personal data, exercising your right “to be forgotten”, where there is no good reason for us continuing to process it. Note, however, that we may not always be able to comply with your request of erasure for specific legal reasons which will be notified to you, if applicable, at the time of your request. This request to erase your personal data will result in the closure of your account and termination of the client relationship. However, the Company is required to maintain the client’s personal data to comply with its legal and regulatory requirements, as well as in accordance with internal compliance requirements in relation to the maintenance of records. We shall preserve data for at least five years following the termination of the client relationship, unless other terms for the preservation of data or documents are prescribed by law.
4. Object to processing of your personal data where we are relying on a legitimate interest and there is something about your particular situation which makes you want to object to processing on this ground. If you lodge an objection, we will no longer process your personal data unless we can demonstrate compelling legitimate grounds for such processing which override your interests, rights and freedoms or processing is required for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.

5. You also have the right to object to your personal data being processed for direct marketing purposes. This also includes profiling in as much as it is related to direct marketing. If you object to processing for direct marketing purposes, then we shall stop the processing of your personal data for such purposes.

6. Request to receive a copy of the personal data concerning you in a format that is structured and commonly used and transmit such data to other organisations. You also have the right to have your personal data transmitted directly by ourselves to other organisations you will name ("right to data portability").

7. Withdraw your consent at any time where we are relying on consent to process your personal data.

In order to exercise any of your rights, or if you have any other questions about our use of your personal data, please contact us through the ways mentioned in our website at: <https://www.jfdbrokers.com/en/contact-us>

We try to respond to all requests within 1 (one) month. Occasionally, it may take us longer than 1 (one) month if your request is particularly complex or you have made a number of requests. In this case, we will notify you within 1 (one) month of the receipt of your request and keep you updated.

We may charge you a reasonable fee when a request is manifestly unfounded, excessive or repetitive, or we receive a request to provide further copies of the same data. In this case we will send you a fee request which you will have to accept prior to us processing your request. Alternatively, we may refuse to comply with your request in these circumstances.

11. Automated decision-making

In establishing and carrying out a business relationship, we generally do not use any automated decision-making. We may process some of your data automatically, with the goal of assessing certain personal aspects (profiling), in order to enter into or perform a contract with you for data assessments (including on payment transactions) which are carried out in the context of combating money laundering and fraud. An account may be detected as being used in a way that is unusual for you or your business. These measures may also serve to protect you.

12. Geographical Area of Processing

As a general rule, the client data is processed within the European Union/European Economic Area (EU/EEA), but in some cases it is transferred to and processed in countries outside the EU/EEA and/or to other companies of the JFD Group as well as service providers who are engaged on our behalf and who are outside the European Economic Area (EEA). When you give us your personal data, you agree to us doing this. This exception applies to the transfer of client data when it is required by law, e.g. reporting obligation under tax law and other tax treaties (FATCA and CRS).

Processors in third countries are obligated to comply with the European data protection standards and to provide appropriate safeguards in relation to the transfer of your data in accordance with GDPR Article 46.

Upon request, the client may receive further details on client data transfers to countries outside the EU/EEA.

Among other practices, your account is protected by a password for your privacy and security. You must prevent unauthorised access to your account and Personal Information by selecting and protecting your password appropriately and limiting access to your computer or device and browser by signing off after you have finished accessing your account.

Transmission of information via regular email exchange is not always completely secure. The Company however exercises all possible actions to protect clients' personal data, yet it cannot guarantee the security of client data that is transmitted via email; any transmission is at the clients' own risk. Once the Company has received the client information it will use procedures and security features in an attempt to prevent unauthorised access.

When you email the Company (via the "Contact Us" page), or using the Live Chat feature, you may be requested to provide some additional personal data, like your name or email address. Such data will be used to respond to your enquiry and verify your identity. Emails are stored on our standard internal contact systems which are secure and cannot be accessed by unauthorised external parties.

14. Your right to lodge a complaint

If you have exercised any or all of your data protection rights and still feel that your concerns about how we use your personal data have not been adequately addressed by us, you have the right to complain by sending an email to legal@jfdbrokers.com.

You also have the right to file a complaint to the Office of the Commissioner for Personal Data Protection. Instructions as to how to submit a complaint can be found in their website: www.dataprotection.gov.cy.
